

One day, college buddies, Chad and Brad, were shredding some gnar out on the Central Coast and got a hankering for a good fish taco. However, all the seafood restaurants they found were too formal for their present vibes, so they set out to create a fish taco shack where they could hang out, enjoy some good food and good company. In 2021 they opened The Wicked Fin, where the saying “no shoes, no shirt, no problem” holds true and delicious food is served by the minute.
